Founded in New York City in 1966, the Victorian Society in America is dedicated to fostering the appreciation and preservation of our nation's 19th-century heritage, as well as that of the early 20th century (1837–1917). The Victorian Society New York, the oldest chapter, is an independent not-for-profit organization affiliated with the national Society. Membership contributions help provide a solid foundation for all we do, from our lecture series, walking tours and excursions to our grant and award programs that honor worthy preservation projects in New York City.

DANIEL D. BADGER CIRCLE MEMBERSHIP

Badger Circle Daniel D. Badger (1806–1884), an American founder working in New York City under the name Architectural Iron Works, was one of the major forces in creating cast-iron architecture in the U.S. The Badger Circle is a group of organizations, businesses, and firms that make a generous commitment to help support the Victorian Society New York's activities and further its mission. Daniel D. Badger Circle members are recognized in our Panorama newsletter, on the Society's website, and at lectures and annual business meetings.
